Lynn & Lindy
ADLER HEARNE

From Texas' upper east side in the rural arts hamlet of Winnsboro, award-winning performing songwriters Lynn Adler and Lindy Hearne (self-proclaimed "organic song farmers") tour nationally, serving up seasoned original songs mixed with fresh harvests of homegrown music in a spirited and soulful genre they define simply as "Texas Folk," with subtle jazz and blues overtones. Adler & Hearne's favorite places to sow songs in people's hearts are the venues that provide an opportunity to have a meaningful connection with a listening audience.

In concert, she (Adler) and he (Hearne) blend their voices and instruments in a spirited signature sound that reflects their true second-nature connection through song. The two met in Nashville while on solo musical journeys. Years later their paths merged in Texas, where they formed the duo Adler & Hearne, along with their indie label Spring Hollow Records.

Their newest CD "Second Nature" was produced by Texas music icon Lloyd Maines and officially released in September, 2014. In addition to Maines' instrumental contributions, the CD features guitar-slinger/songwriter daughter Kate Hearne on lead guitar on several of the CD's 13 songs. Other special musical guests featured are Glenn Fukunaga (bass), Chris Gage (keys), Terri Hendrix (harmonica and harmony vocals), Pat Manske (percussion and engineer) and Steve Smith (mandolin).

In June, the duo was honored by the Texas Commission on the Arts, being named to the state's official Texas Touring Roster for the September 2014-1016 touring season.
