Sara Hickman has garnered recognition as a captivating singer/songwriter, vocalist and musician, with artists such as Shawn Colvin, the Flatlanders, Robert Earl Keen, Willie Nelson and many others covering her songs. On her Kirtland Records debut release Shine, Hickman delivers another memorable collection of ten songs that will take the listener on an intense journey destined to evoke a broad spectrum of emotions.

As Rolling Stone puts it, "Tuneful, clever and carefully observed, Sara Hickman's material has all the strengths expected of a contemporary Texas songwriter, plus one more - whimsy." Sensitive and fearless, Shine is another testament to Hickman's diverse and emotional songwriting capabilities that appeal to a wide range of audiences. Fun, upbeat tracks such as "Tasty Sweet" and "My Cocky Friend" transition to clever observations on today's society with "Selfish Freak" and "Trouble With Boxes," giving way to the spiritual, insightful "Rapture" and "You Are Not Alone" before coming full circle with the celebratory title track.

Since she started performing at the age of seven, Hickman has been embraced by both followers and critics. The Associated Press proclaims, "Seek out her albums and club shows for her melodic sense, excellent guitar playing, rich voice and mix of sunny optimism with heartache."

Hickman's home state of Texas loves her too, naming her the 2010-2011 "Official State Musician of Texas," joining luminaries such as Willie Nelson and Lyle Lovett.
